NHS Petition
NHS in Danger

The NHS is not safe in coalition hands. The government's 'reforms' as outlined in the Health and Social Care Bill are 'unworkable', 'destabilising' and could 'destroy key services'.

What the bill means:

- The NHS faces being privatised as competition replaces cooperation and private multi-national healthcare companies are allowed to bid for lucrative NHS contracts.
- cuts to jobs and services – waiting times are already rising and will only worsen.
- the bond of trust between doctor and patient will be destroyed.
- the break up of the NHS as a network that works together and puts patients first.
- a return of the postcode lottery – GP consortia will be free to set their own priorities which means you may need to move home to get the drugs and treatment you need.

We the undersigned are opposed to the government's 'reforms' of the NHS.
We say 'No' to the Health and Social Care Bill.
