Keep Print & Pride on Merseyside

Trinity Mirror has announced its intention to close its printing presses in Liverpool ending 154 years of printing in the city.

It wants to switch production of the Liverpool Daily Post and Echo from Merseyside to a site in Oldham, Manchester placing 100 jobs at risk.

Unite the trade union has launched a major campaign to fight the closure of the Liverpool print site and is calling on the people of Merseyside, local business and North West MPs to support us. Please add your support to the campaign by signing the below petition and asking your friends and family to do the same.
