Why trade unionists should join the Labour Party

www.unitetheunion.org

Dear Colleague

The coalition between the Tories and the Liberal Democrats ushers in not just a new period in our politics it brings with it the promise of savage cuts to public spending and the threat to tens of thousands of jobs. This cannot be what the millions of people and hundreds of thousands of Unite members who did not vote Tory or who voted Liberal Democrat wanted to see.

The Labour Party may have lost the General Election battle but they now have to lead the fight to secure the recovery and stand up for those who are now ignored by the new coalition.

As a Unite member you can also demonstrate your support for your union by joining the Labour Party at the special reduced rate for Unite members of £19.50 a year.

We are proud of our union's strong links with the Labour Party. The party was created over 100 years ago to promote the values and aspirations of trade union members. 100 years on we recognise the importance of that relationship.

Working together with Labour in government we tackled low pay, unfairness in the workplace and improved the lives of everyone. Working with Labour in opposition we can help rebuild confidence in the party as the radical voice in politics.

The Tories, and now, it seems, the Liberal Democrats, intend the victims of the recession to pay for it. Their policy on Inheritance Tax will benefit the 3,000 richest families by £200,000 each. They want to increase the retirement age so millions will have to work longer and pay more.

As trade unionists we should not forget it was Labour who brought in the minimum wage, made trade union recognition a right, vastly improved parental leave and guaranteed 28 days paid holiday a year.

The Tories will put all of this at risk in favour of tax cuts for the richest.

You can make your mark in the new political age by joining the Labour Party for just £19.50 a year - that's less than £2 a month.

We want Labour to return strong and vibrant speaking up for the many who did not vote for spending cuts and tax breaks for the rich. We want Unite members' voices heard.

You can help shape Labour's policies for the future, sharing your and your family's ideas, hopes and concerns by becoming a party member. Labour Party policy is made by ordinary members. Labour Party members also have a direct say in the selection of their local Labour MP and councillors and who will be the party leader.

This is the opportunity for a new beginning. We'd urge all Unite members to join the Labour Party and be part of the new future.

The Tory/Lib Dem coalition

The Tory/Liberal Democrat coalition says it will be savage in its public spending cuts. But they also want tax cuts which will benefit those on already good incomes. These can only be paid for by even more savage spending cuts or, as experts agree, increases in VAT.

This is what they've said they'll do to start:

- Cut £6bn immediately from public spending
- Cut Child Tax Credits
- Cut Child Trust Funds
- Crack down on welfare benefits and pensions
- Cut public sector pensions
- Raise the retirement age

So, we face the prospect of more unemployment and people in work having to work longer and pay more for a reduced pension whilst those who are better off get even better off.

"This cannot be what the millions of people and hundreds of thousands of Unite members who did not vote Tory or who voted Liberal Democrat wanted to see," said Derek Simpson and Tony Woodley. "We want Unite members' voices heard in the Labour Party. We want Labour to return strong and vibrant speaking up for the many who did not vote for spending cuts and tax breaks for the rich."
