The commemoration will be held between 12 noon and 1.00pm in the garden between St Mary's Street and Bayley Lane, Coventry

As in previous years, the Coventry Trades Union Council will be organising a commemoration to honour thousands of working people who have been killed, fall sick or get injured at work. The event will pledge renewed efforts by trade unions and the community to improve health and safety standards at work. In times of economic crisis this is even more crucial.

Take a moment to join us and think about those who have lost their lives through their work and think what you can do to protect yourself and colleagues at work.
