

Chair of the board, Academy of Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting Research (UK)

The Academy of Nursing, Midwifery and Health Visiting Research (UK) is a collaborative venture led by the Royal College of Nursing, the Community Practitioners' and Health Visitors' Association and the Royal College of Midwives, and has board level membership from many other organisations with an interest in research. It provides an expert collaborative voice for all aspects of research involving nursing, midwifery and health visiting in the UK. Furthermore, it promotes and supports research careers and leadership in research for the nursing, health visiting and midwifery professions.

Following the completion of his term of office, the founding chair, Professor Tony Butterworth, will be standing down in October, and the Academy is now seeking a new chair. Those applying must bring credibility in their profession and a significant track record of achievement in research, leadership and policy development.
