The constituencies

The new HNC will have 22 constituencies. These are based on the Amicus regions which correspond with England's Regional Development Agencies (RDAs). Scotland and Northern Ireland have been combined. In addition, the constituencies reflect a balance between centres and branches.

In the event of more than one nomination from each constituency, a secret ballot will be conducted within the constituency to elect the HNC member.

Eligibility

Those wishing to put their name forward for the HNC must be:

- An Amicus member (S3 to S5) working in the stated Amicus region and the appropriate type of workplace (branch or centre), if specified.
- Nominated by ten Amicus members (S3 to S5) working in the same Amicus region and type of workplace as the candidate.
- Those wishing to become members of the HNC must be, or be prepared to become on election, an Amicus workplace representative.

Roles and responsibilities of HNC members

- Attend all HNC meetings (Please note that the AGM will be June 6-8th 2006 at the Eaton Hotel, Birmingham.)
- Represent the views and interests of all members not just those in their constituency or workplace
- Seek out the views of members in their constituency
- Attend their Amicus regional sector committee meeting
- Act as a team leader and organiser for the JAORs in their constituency

- Work to increase membership of the union.

Equality

The HNC seeks to reflect the diversity of the membership it represents. For this reason, we would particularly welcome applications from women, young people, LGBT staff, black and ethnic minority staff and those with disabilities.

Applications

Individuals who are interested in becoming an HNC member should complete and return the nomination form and election address which follows.

Please ensure that you clearly identify the constituency that you are applying for and the ten Amicus members who support your nomination.

All nominations must be supported by 10 members in the relevant constituency. Should you wish to submit a nomination for one of these constituencies but are unclear about any of the above, please contact Amicus, HSBC office on 0207- 780- 4069
