

Dear Colleague,

Amicus Let's Talk Event

Amicus is dedicated to delivering political change to support members in the workplace. A lot of work is devoted to this in Westminster on national issues such as new rights at work, pensions and the minimum wage as well as lobbying on many industrial areas.

However, the strength of the union is in the workplace and it is vital that members have a voice in the development of political policy in this area.

Amicus has organised this Let's Talk event so the experience of members can inform the Labour party's policy development. Trade unions established the Labour party so that working people's views would be represented at every level. Use this event to make sure that the Labour party still hears your experience in its policy formation.
