

Unite legal services to benefit you and your family ...

Members of Unite are entitled to free legal advice. Representation services cover a range of issues, both inside and outside the workplace. We can help with personal injury claims, employment matters, conveyancing and many other legal issues. We also provide a free will-making service.

We provide free legal advice and representation to members who have employment-related problems. Our team of workplace representatives, full time officers and specialist employment lawyers can give professional advice and support in tribunal and civil court claims. Areas covered include: contracts of employment, redundancy, unfair dismissal, TUPE, race, sex, disability, age discrimination and victimisation. Our legal team has successfully pursued thousands of tribunal and court claims on behalf of Unite members. Initially you should contact your Unite Senior Representative:

UNITE IN NATIONAL AUSTRALIA GROUP

UNITE THE UNION – JOIN US AND MAKE A DIFFERENCE

Unite is Britain's largest trade union representing over 2 million working members. Unite Finance Sector has over 200,000 members working across a wide spectrum of employers from the big and smaller players in retail and investment bankers to global insurance players and building societies. Our wealth of experience and expertise gathered in the fast changing world of finance ensures we are uniquely placed to get the best for our members in pensions, outsourcing and restructuring, to name a few.

Over 130 Unite members are Members of Parliament or Labour Peers and assembled in Westminster, Brussels, Wales and Scotland. We are proud of our campaigning work and ability to put pressure on employers, government and wider society for change on issues important to our members such as pensions, workplace health & safety, offshoring and equal pay.

Our network of union representatives and offices all over the UK means we are tirelessly working for you and pushing the barriers for change on campaign issues such as equal pay, stress at work, staffing levels, targets and bullying & harassment.

UNION FOR LIFE

Unite strength and membership in a variety of industries from engineering and health education to manufacturing and banks means, when you change jobs, you don't need to change your union.

MAKE YOUR VOICE HEARD

We negotiate your pay and terms and conditions acting as an independent "voice of the workforce". Our democratic structure ensures you have your say as a Workplace, Health & Safety rep or National Company Committee member. You can also e-mail your views to NAG@unitetheunion.com.

ADVICE AND SUPPORT

Members can turn to us if they have problems at work. We will advise, support, and if required, represent you in disciplinarys, grievance hearings, performance improvement, sickness and other formal hearings. We also offer invaluable legal support whether its discrimination, unfair dismissal or accidents at work. In 2007, Unite won over £125 million in compensation for members who had been injured or become ill as a result of work, who had been discriminated against, or unfairly dismissed.

Updates on key negotiations with NAG and our publications are posted on My Amicus (Go to www.amicustheunion.org – My Amicus, Unite Amicus Section) for members and circulated in the workplace.

GET INVOLVED

We are always looking for Workplace and Health & Safety reps to make a difference in the workplace through supporting, advising and representing colleagues. Unite provides full training and accreditation.

CAMPAIGNING

We run workplace campaigns on issues such as staffing levels, fair pay, targets and equality.
