

CUTS

put workplace
health & safety
AT RISK

Too many workers are not safe at work.

Each year in the UK up to 50,000 people are killed due to work or work activities

Government's cuts will put essential protections - and workers - at risk.

Health and safety is NOT red tape.
A healthy and safe workplace is a right for every worker.

Unite says stop the attacks on workplace safety

- No more budget cuts to the HSE, local authorities and other health & safety enforcement bodies
- Specific health & safety duties for company directors and senior management
- Extension of union safety representatives' rights
