

SUPPORT THE TEAM IN THE HEALTH PROFESSIONS ELECTION

VOTE FOR NEIL AND DOUG

NEIL WILLIS

Neil has been employed in the NHS since 1964 and works in Medical Biochemistry at the University Hospital of Wales

The registrant member of the HPC since its inception in 2002, and previously the elected representative on the MLT board of the CPSM.

Neil is committed to maintaining fees as low as possible and obtaining the very best value for money from existing fees.

Neil believes in transparency and openness and works closely with all stakeholders, attending Council meetings of the IBMS and Branch Meetings of Amicus.

Neil Willis and Doug Proctor are asking for your support in their campaign to be elected as the Biomedical Scientists representatives to the Health Professions Council. (HPC)

Neil has been nominated as the registrant and Doug as his alternate.

The election papers will be sent by post to all registered Biomedical Scientists on the 25 April 2005.

Both Neil and Doug are well known as active members of Amicus and the Institute of Biomedical Science.

Neil is the current HPC incumbent and has done an excellent job since the Health Professions Council (HPC) superseded the Council for Professions Supplementary to Medicine (CPSM) as the registrant body for Biomedical Scientists.

Doug currently leads on National Occupational Standards for Amicus.

With professional issues and industrial issues becoming more intertwined it is important that those elected to these posts are aware of their responsibilities and remain accountable for their actions.

Both Neil and Doug are committed to this principle.

Please support Neil Willis and Doug Proctor with your votes on the 25th April 2005.

DOUG PROCTOR

Doug has been a Biomedical Scientist for over 30 years Doug is currently employed in the Clinical Biochemistry Department at Prince Charles Hospital in Merthyr Tydfil.

He is a committee member of the South East Wales Branch of the IBMS, and for a number of years, Secretary to the Cardiff and Vale NHS Branch of Amicus.

Doug is the staff side lead on Job Evaluation to the North Glamorgan Trust's Agenda for Change project.

Previously Doug was the Alternate Member to the old MLT Board of the CPSM.
