UK government must fund TV Licences for ALL over 75s

In June 2020 pensioners over the age of 75 will lose their right to a free TV licence, unless they claim pension credit.

Unite is demanding that the UK government steps in and gives ALL over 75s a free TV Licence. The right to a TV licence should not be means tested.

Many elderly people rely on their TV for company and entertainment, especially those who are housebound or live alone.

Unite urges pensioners to claim pension credit!

Until the UK government backs down and re-introduces free TV licences for all over 75s, Unite is encouraging pensioners to claim pension credit.

You paid your taxes, you should claim what you’re entitled to.

1.2 million eligible pensioners are not claiming the money that they’re entitled to.

£3.5 billion goes unclaimed each year!

If you qualify for pension credit it could also help you with housing, council tax, winter fuel payments, and NHS Dental costs.

The quickest way to apply for Pension Credit is by phone. A friend or family member can call for you, but you must be with them when they call.

Pension Credit claim line: 0800 99 1234

You will need:
- Your National Insurance number
- Information about your income, savings and investments
- Your bank account details.

For more information about how to claim, visit: gov.uk/pension-credit/how-to-claim
